Your Editor Pat Lewis is certainly to be congratulated on her first issue of the Review! We look forward to many more under her guidance. It is a great treat to be able to have such large pictures at no additional cost - a boon brought to us by the change to offset printing.

The Board of Directors has been busy managing the Club's affairs. We held a very worthwhile meeting on June 2nd. This will probably be reported in greater detail by the Secretary, but I do want to reassure you readers that we discussed the problem of overtrimming of Poms for the show ring and the apparently increasing number of judges who say they are penalizing some dogs for "too much coat". We decided to send out once again to all judges licensed for our breed the Directive on Overtrimming previously mailed out in 1975 and published in the AKC Gazette, with an additional reminder included, emphasizing the PROFUSE COAT asked for in our breed standard. (The original directive can be found on Page 150 of the Anniversary Issue.) Your Parent Club can only ask judges to adhere to the provisions of the Standard - and cannot instruct them on OUR interpretation of some of the features making up a perfect Pom.

The only alternative to this approach is to revise our Standard, adding the major faults in the appropriate paragraphs and making it very definite that the Pom coat should be abundant, profuse, untrimmed and natural in appearance - and that overtrimming should be penalized. Any revision must be voted by a two thirds majority of our membership, and last year's voting on the addition of the major faults did not get this percentage of support. If some members feel very strongly that the faults SHOULD be added, they can get a petition signed by 20% of the membership to that effect and send it to the Board. This obli-gates the Board to send out another mailing on the matter.

Readers will find both a Trophy Pledge and a Show Catalogue Advertising Pledge inserted in this issue of the Review. Because the Review now comes out in August instead of July, very little time is left before the deadline for pledges for our most important event of the year, the Annual February Specialty Show. It is sad but true that only a scant one-third of our total membership have in the past given their support to this premier Club event. Nobody can contribute to EVERYTHING, but surely it is not too much to ask that members either take an ad in the show catalogue or donate a small (or large!) amount to the trophy fund.

By the time this appears in print, our Summer Specialty in Wisconsin will be over. As I write, I am looking forward to this event and to the opportunity of meeting many midwest members.

NOVEMBER KENNEL VISIT HEADS WEST TO JEAN SCHROLL

The Review Staff is happy to announce that our November Kennel Visit is to be with Mrs. Jean B. Schroll of Oregon City, Oregon. As Jean has stated, she is not a big breeder in the sense of many litters and many dogs and her dogs all live in her home with her. But, due to her quality breeding, her long support of the P.C.A., her exhibitors participation and her unflinching support of the Review, she is considered an ideal person to honor at this time with a Kennel Visit.

Support the Review and Jean with your November ads!

THANKS FOR A JOB WELL DONE

The Review Staff wishes to thank Pat Brooks for the fine job she has done in the past as Circulation Manager. This is an exacting job and one for which there is normally small thanks.

We appreciate Pat's fine work in filling this capacity for us.

Our officers and board of directors had a meeting on June 2, in Pennsylvania. Fortunately we had a quorum and were able to accomplish a large amount of pending business. One of the most important items on our agenda was the needed effort to curb expenses. Mounting inflation has caught up with us and we felt we must try to decrease expenses in every way possible, by cutting printing costs, establishing guidelines to expenses in hiring specialty judges, telephone expenditures, and in any other way we can find.

Another item of general interest was the continued complaints regarding judges penalizing heavily coated dogs and the tendency we are seeing towards excessive trimming. These complaints are being heard from coast to coast. As a result, we have voted to again send out the directive to judges regarding our standards position on permissible trimming and calling attention to the fact that our standard does call for a profuse coat. Hopefully it will be read and heeded.

After approximately six hours we adjourned and all went to a nearby restaurant for dinner and relaxation.

Frequently, I get calls and letters from people that have been referred to me by AKC requesting information on where to locate breeders in their area. I send them a list of those in their locale. Our Constitution does not allow me to recommend one over another, so they just receive a complete list. If you are conversant try to be as helpful as you can if you don't have what they are looking for perhaps you can suggest who does.

COVER STORY

We take great pleasure in presenting our latest Group and Best in Show winner, Randy's Ga. Hot Shot of Jolly Wee".

Hot shot is sired by our top producer Randy's Jolly Wee Peppi" out of a Peppi daughter, "Randy's Jolly Wee Georgia Peach". From this combination we have had eight puppies, seven males and one female. Two males have finished and three others are very near finishing. The female we are going to breed very soon.

Hot Shot is the type of Pom we wish we could produce all the time. He is a solid 4½ lb. bundle of pure mischief. He has the short back, lovely head with very tiny ears, high tail set, good sturdy bone and very profuse stand-off coat of proper texture. And I must say I do like a Pom with lots of coat.

We hope to use Hot Shot in our future breeding program. He is proven, having sired one puppy for Ethel Richardson. We hope he will produce like his famous father. Peppi is now the sire of fifteen Champion children including two "Best in Show" kids. He also has some beautiful grand children in the show ring. What a great little dog he has been for us.

Getting back to Hot Shot, we wish to say we are very proud of his show wins, he has 10 Group First and of course, his Best in Show. He is handled by our good friend Carroll James. We wish to thank Carroll and Mary not only for their expert handling of our boy but also the loving care they always give him.

We hope we can continue to show Hot Shot and that he will do more winning in the future. We wish to thank the judges who have given him his very nice wins. And we sincerely appreciate the nice compliments from Breeder-Judges Dorothy Bonner and Darrell Baker. And a very special "Thank You" to Judge Mr. Jerome Rich for his first Best in Show.

See you all in the show ring.

NEW CIRCULATION MANAGER ANNOUNCED

The Review staff is happy to welcome Mrs. Judy Blocker of Charleston, S.C. as the new Circulation Manager.

Judy has assumed the duties formerly taken care of by Pat Brooks. These duties consist of keeping complete records of both members and subscribers and sending out copies of the Review to all those who wish extras or those not receiving current copies, Judy also still has a supply of the Anniversary Issue for anyone wishing a copy at the price of $7.95 each.

If you do not receive your current copy of the Review please contact

a visit to Hawaii

WITH STANLEY and CLARICE OGANEKU AT WOODROSE KENNELS

by Lurline Kimokeo

Aloha mai, mai Hawaii nei...Welcome to Hawaii, and to the Woodrose Pomeranian Kennel, home of Clarice and Stanley Oganeku.

This visit by the Pomeranian Review is a first for Hawaii, and in my estimation no finer a selection of kennel than Woodrose could have been made. Clarice and Stanley are honored to feature their kennel as well as to acquaint you with Hawaii's Pom circle of activities.

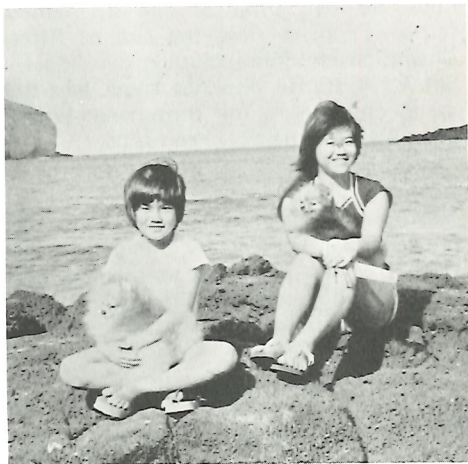

Ch. Rosewood's Mity Sweet o' Timsun, first Pom champion for Woodrose (deceased).

To appreciate the fine reputation that Woodrose Pomeranians have amassed in Hawaii is to acknowledge the methodical, conscientious, and dedicated efforts of the Oganekus on behalf of the breed here. Their introduction to the little 'fuzz balls' started in 1967 when they purchased their first male locally from Janet Cox out of her Ch. Khani Sun laukea. Before too long, their addiction to the breed took hold, so that in 1971 they bought two bitches from Janet - Yuriko's Golden Tresses, who is the dam of Ch. Woodrose's Free 'N Easy, and Rosewood's Mity Sweet O'Timsun (Puddin', who at the time had 13 points (one major) and in 1973 became Woodrose's first champion.

Puddin was a daughter of Ch. Reeves Buster Boy, long admired by Clarice, and she possessed the characteristics that Clarice hoped to perpetuate. Thus, there began an extensive search for a mate for Puddin and for her breeder. It was through Nina Epps, a long-time correspondent of the Oganekus, that Clarice learned of Mary Hammond who later offered Rosewood's Whing Ding Whirl, a four-month-old, red, typey male that garnered 10 points (2 majors) while he was being shown here. With the continuing support of Mary Hammond, a year later they increased their stock by acquiring Rosewood's Little Don Juan (pointed), Rosewood's Dragonfly Angel (now a champion), and Rosewood's Bit of Little Eddie (dam of Ch. Woodrose's Tuff Stuff), all of Great Elms and Van Hoozer bloodlines. Mary Hammond's genuine concern for and interest in furthering the efforts of a novice was not lost with Clarice and Stanley, for they obliged by producing three homebreds. Their first, Ch. Woodrose's Shooting Star (owned by Chris Omoto), was followed by two others who dominated Hawaii's toy group during the past two years in particular - Ch. Woodrose's Tuff Stuff, 1977 Top Toy, and his daughter, Ch. Woodrose's Free 'N Easy (Owned by Betty Aona), 1978 Top Toy.

But the ravages of time and other complexities have taken their toll at Woodrose and many of the beginning stock are gone.

At one of our beaches; My son, Darren, is holding Ch. Woodrose's Tuff Stuff and Yevette, holding Ch. Creider's Bold Venture.

To blend with their existing bloodlines, Woodrose is currently working together with the renowned Creider Kennel of Oklahoma. Norma has provided, amongst others, Ch. Creider's Bold Venture (son of BIS winner Ch. Sundot's Ramboling Man), Ch. Creider's Ebony Masterpiece (black), and soon will send two more bitches. There already is a promising orange sable male, Woodrose's Shadow Dancer (Ch. Venture x Creider's Amy of Shadowdance (pointed), that Clarice will introduce in the show rings this spring. I expect there to be more out of this outstanding kennel and news of its further accomplishments in the future.

The Oganekus' reputation amongst Hawaii's "doggie" people is not limited to their distinction in the breed and extends, on behalf of their 14-year-old daughter, Yvette, to the area of junior showmanship. At the age of 7 Yvette began competition, winning top honors with such consistency so as to beg out about a year ago. There is no denying her natural talent and ability with dogs, large and small. Her achievements in junior showmanship, as well as ringside, at so young an age are amazing; and it is not unusual to see her running from ring to ring to meet the demands for her handling expertise. You will always find her in Group and BIS competition. Other than Poms, Yvette proudly owns a boxer, CH. Box M's Mona Lisa, that she handled exclusively. She also finished their formerly owned Maltese, CH. Sun Canyons Willy. Clarice, an accomplished handler herself, is Yvette's teacher and greatest critic. Stanley will pitch in when in a bind, that is when Clarice and Yvette are showing their Poms, but always with complete confidence. The only member of the family not completely "in" with dogs is Darren, their 9 year old son; but who knows, perhaps he, too, will join them at ringside!

Their home is located on the windward (east) side of the island of Oahu in the rural residential community of Kaneohe. The property includes eight runs used by their 13 Poms and Boxer, and a swimming pool where their dogs are exercised. There is also a hothouse complete with automatic sprinkler system designed and built by Stanley to house their tropical plant nursery operation. All of their dogs occupy a separate room in the family home for sleeping quarters. With the goings on at home on a daily basis, it's a wonder that Stanley has time to devote to the Honolulu Community College where he teaches auto body and painting, and, I might add, is continuing his advance education. In addition to all that, he still finds time to preside over the Pomeranian Club of Hawaii which currently consists of 24 members.

Most of Hawaii's Pom breeders are included in the club and make up the core of its operation. Clarice is a co-founder of the club which began in mid-74 and was recognized by AKC in late 1976. Since then, the Kennel Area- This is where we put our Poms out during the day and at night they come into the house to sleep.

Exercise Area: This is where the Poms get their exercise (including my daughters Boxer).

club has held eight B matches and about a year ago had the distinct pleasure of having as judge, Ed Bivin. This was the first opportunity for our little group to meet with and obtain comments from a former Pom breeder. We have also been privileged by visitations from Dan and JoEllen Mercer of Prairie Wind Poms, Nebraska; Joyce Orthman, Joda Kennel; and Pauline Hughes of Point Loma Poms, California. Many of us are still in contact with the Mercers, Joyce, and Pauline, as well as Ruth Dotson of Sundot Kennels, California, and Lennis Raines of Tennessee.

Having mentioned our valued mainland breeder friends, we would be remiss in not conveying our gratitude to them for allowing us the ownership of their Poms. Without their trust, our progress in the breed unquestionable integrity. Evidence is their seven champions (five Poms) in a period of about five years, because Hawaii, when Woodrose began competition, had but two licensed all-bred shows annually, the four in 1975, and now six! With as few litters that Woodrose has produced over the past few years, their earnest desire for improvement of the breed in Hawaii is apparent in their having released three of their five champions to other Pom breeders.

I am privileged to be able to write of Woodrose Poms and the Oganeku family whom I admire and respect for their all-around good neighborliness. Aloha and Mahalo.

would be unattainable. A significant consideration that these breeders have had to weigh is whether or not to let their dearly loved Poms endure the rigors of travel for as many as 4,000 miles and, at the end of the journey, of initial confinement in surroundings which one could term "impersonal." Their personal sacrifice and the inconvenience to our Poms are recognized, but we can offer no better alternative on introduction to Hawaii. Our hands are tied by a State law that requires quarantine of animals for 120 days as a safeguard for the people of Hawaii which is rabies free. The attendant cost of confinement is vested on us, so that we, too, must be wary when we inquire abroad. But as long as there are breeders who are sympathetic to our needs and acquiesce to our restriction, Poms in Hawaii will have a greater future.

Woodrose is showing us how it's done with their "where there's a will, there's a way" lifestyle that is blessed with

1979 Stud Dog Register

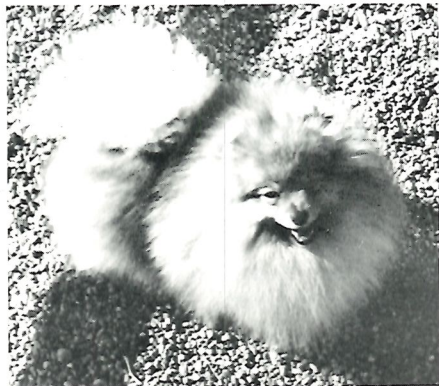

This is Pomeranian Reviews 1979 Register of outstanding stud dogs. On this and the following pages - and in some of the display ads - are stud dogs that, for the individual excellence, unique characteristics or special breeding, stand ready to help every breeder in the country. Inevitably, some owners of fine stud dogs failed to send their entries in, for one reason or another. But with so many represented, from every section of the country, and of so many different bloodlines, we feel that our Register is very complete. May we request that when breeders send inquiries to stud dog owners, they mention: "I saw your stud card in the Review."

OH WHERE OH WHERE HAS MY LITTLE DOG GONE?

with her tail over her back while she heeled by me, quite free.
she slipped under the fence and was gone, yes ser yre.

Losing a dog you love is a sad experience. Finding the dog is tougher. I can really appreciate what politicians must go through in order to reach the people. That's also what you need to do in order to get your dog back. Too many people think a lost dog is a stray and do not try to find the owner.

First, of course, look for the dog immediately. Take a photo of your dog with you. Descriptions don't always work - a picture tells a thousand words. Stop and talk with the children in the neighborhood. They seem to know more of what's going on than the adults, however do talk to them also.

Put an ad in your local newspapers. Visit the dog shelters in your area and the bordering areas (even a small dog can travel a great distance when lost). They keep dogs only three days - then some go up for adoption, while others are put to sleep. The shelters have a lost and found log of found dogs being in people's homes. Do not only call the dog shelter, but visit them every other day.

HELP MAKE
HOLIDAY PUBLICATION!

Did you ever wish you could say "Happy Holidays" to all the wonderful Pom people who subscribe to the Review?

Are you owned by a special 'little someone' who you know would like to be presented to everyone at this gala time of the year?

Find a clear photo of your dog; tape it to a piece of paper with a description of the dog; list your phone number and a reward. Get about 100 copies run off at a printing store for a modest fee. Pass these out to everyone you see, especially the children of the neighborhood. Put them on store bulletin boards, and local laundramats. Don't forget the mailman, milkman, etc. Do this at different times of the day, people come and go at different times. Mail some flyers to the veterinary hospitals in area, too.

Try to stay home during this time in order to be near the phone. Be sure to do it all within two weeks of losing the dog. Don't say the dog is stolen because it may offend some people. Check out all leads, but don't completely believe them. I can speak from experience, because my obedience Pom was lost. After going through the procedure that I've just shared with you, I had several reported sightings. I checked them out but found that the person who had my dog saved her from a big dog in front of the house next door and it took them four weeks and two days (for some reason?) to find out where the dog lived and to catch me home. Do not give up and Good Luck!

Trimming the Pomeranian

by ANN R. WINTER
Rosskear Pomeranians, S. Wales

I was intrigued by a brief article printed in the October Issue of your Pomeranian Review by Jean Schroll, regarding over-trimming of Poms. Her comments apparently apply not only to dogs being shown in the States, but are also based on her observations at Crufts this year.

I met Ms. Schroll at Crufts and found her a most interesting person, but cannot help feeling that she is somewhat mistaken when she claims so vociferously that at Crufts "Every Pom there was trimmed all over making it difficult to tell what kind of coat they had". I accept that poetic license has prompted her to exaggerate to a degree but as one of the Pom exhibitors at the show I would like to assure our American friends that our dogs do NOT fall victim to over-enthusiastic scissor-happy owners!

It has been my privilege to make up several Champions in the UK, and to own the top winning Pomeranian Kennel for 1977-78. I handle all my own dogs, as do 90% of the British dog showing fraternity, and I also trim my own dogs for the show ring to the best of my ability. I am a Championship show judge of the Breed, and feel that I am in a position to make valid comment.

I would dearly love to see a Pom which has, to use Ms. Scholl's own turn of phrase, "been trimmed from head to toe, every hair on its body having been cut off". The mind boggles! Surely no-one in their right minds would trim any dog, least of all a Pom, to that extent. I know from experience that occasionally novice exhibitors who are inexperienced in the art of judiciously tidying-up the outline of their Poms, may get carried away and produce a rather severely barbered end product, but whereas I can't speak for Poms on your West Circuit, certainly few of the British Pomeranians receive more than the most minimal amount of hairdressing - and when they do it is in keeping with the allowances of our Breed Standard.

Ms. Scholl quotes from the AKC Breed Standard and I would have thought that the paragraph regarding trimming was crystal clear. The beauty of the perfect Pom which we all strive to breed is its overall balance, its daintiness, its neat ears which give it that unique expression, and above all the so-individual "orange like" overall appearance. When we show our dogs obviously we want them to look their very best, and anything which we can do to improve their appearance in accordance with the Standard must surely be welcomed. Speaking personally, all my dogs including the three Champions which Ms. Schroll enthused over at Crufts, receive the following "trimming" throughout their entire lives: tidying up around the ear tips, and tidying up stray hairs beyond the general outline of the ruff; trimming of excess hair around the anus (for hygiene as well as aesthetics!), around the feet and also up the hind legs as far as the hock so that unruly skirt hair does not unbalance the overall appearance. I don't honestly think that this system in any way contravenes either your or our Breed Standard.

I don't know quite what is meant when Ms. Schroll claims that "We severed our ties with England over 200 years ago". I am delighted to say that I regularly send Rosskear stock to various parts of the USA and am even more pleased when I hear of the results of stock bred from a careful blending of British and American lines in the USA show ring. Surely both nations can learn from the other, and mutual exchanges between fanciers with a common interest can only be for the good.

I would not venture to assess the relative merits of the British and the American Pomeranian, but would suggest that any American enthusiasts who were sufficiently interested should visit a UK Championship show to see for themselves these "trimmed all over" spectacles in our Pom rings. Trim in accordance with the Breed Standard, is my motto, and make the best of your dog. Judging by some of the photographs in your Pom Review, perhaps a little expert trimming could do wonders for Poms across the Atlantic!

Keep up the Good Work with your excellent magazine. Must close now - I haven't scissored my Poms today!!

Houston pomeranian people have been doing all the background work toward conduct of our August 10, 1979 Specialty Show. Trophy and Advertising Chairmen Carolyn Crockett and Kathy Flanakin, (respectively) have done their work WELL - trophies are not only to be exceptional in type and quality, but plentiful!! At last rally-up, Carolyn reports advertising coming in nicely. We expect a very fine entry for a very fine show this year - appeal for our specialty is supplemented by the practicality of having 4 shows in 4 days in one location. We are hearing rumors that this practice may gain increasing favor among area clubs due to fuel crises that have developed recently and are expected to be with us for a while. While you are possibly knowledgeable about this type plan, I will briefly explain. The idea for a co-show or mutual show (or whatever it might be called) is for several kennel clubs and/or specialty clubs in one general area to pool efforts and resources to arrange to have their shows together when possible (i.e. - a show Friday, Saturday and Sunday). My own personal recollection of this practice in the past is that A.K.C. did not always support such plans - possibly for good reasons, but I am not familiar with that). That is, however, history. There are very good "mutterings" now about these mutual show events and clubs are trying hard to maintain the good image, properly conducted shows, adherence to all regulations, keeping in mind A.K.C.'s fine standards for all its licensed clubs. Things seem to be working well - and our last year's event received most glowing favorable reports from judges, exhibitors and other clubs. There are of course anomalies in any system, as indeed there may be to multi-show events; however, happily Houston seemed to work out the minor difficulties with ease following the 1978 event, and everything is running amazingly well now.

Our members are going into the hiberna-tory state that hits us all in the summer time - many vacation, others just 'lazy' around in Texas sun, kids and teachers spend the entire summer desperately trying to recover from one another; and in our area dog shows are at a standhill. The Poms mischievously go now into beautiful blooming coats, plotting for about August for devastating coat drop-outs so that they can all be buck-naked for the fall shows! This is their bratty little way of letting us know who is boss!!!

You are of course bored with people's personal experiences - but I've one item of recent Pom puppy raising that might be of interest. Exhilarated from having just bottle raised an adorable female puppy whose mother detested her following the Caesarian, I had a second chance (quite unexpectedly and quite undesired) to do it again with three little orphaned Pom babies whose mother died of surgical shock during her Caesarian. This one was really tough - due primarily to my full-time job as medical secretary to a doctor. This is a dreadful constraint to raising dogs! Being away for each full day makes it difficult to provide feedings as often as they really require. The day of the babies' birth, and loss of the mother, I enlisted the aid of a little pom who had just 9 days before aborted one tiny dead puppy. She was scrubbed up and polished a little and instantly wrapped around these tiny babies, claimed them as her own, and performed all the motherly duties, bless her. We literally PRAYED for, and did rain dances for, her to develop MILK - bits of colostrum were still present at the time (clear rather thick fluid in the breasts) - puppies nursed a little with my help for the first day or two, but real nourishment was provided by me with the usual Nip Pet Nurser and Esbilac. Getting up through the night every 2 hours is tough at best - but when you must then get up early and bounce off to work all day, it is doubly difficult. Worthwhile, but still exhausting. For years I have read of mother creatures instantly developing milk when babies are presented to nurse - humans too, I am told. Stories are common of mothers who had not even recently given birth - suddenly having the milk spring forth as dictated by need. Sadly, this did not happen. I talked with my veterinarian after 3 days to see if any type

CH. CAMELOT'S TINY TO

Amos is my first homebred Champion. He finished in just seven shows, handled all the way by his proud owner, Mrs. Robert Eisner.

THANKS TO ALL THE FOLLOWING JUDGES FOR HIS WINS:

- Mrs. John Marshall Jones from the puppy class, Philadelphia, WD 3 pts.
- Mr. Charles Kellogg, K.C. of Northern N.J., WD 3 pts.
- Mrs. Joan Alexander, Westminster K.C., WD 4 pts.
- Mrs. Geraldine Hess, Rockland County K.C., WD, BW, BB, 4 pts.
- Mr. Frank Landgraf, Saw Mill River K.C., WD, BW, BB 4 pts.

Congratulations to his sire, Ch. Theldun's Tim Dandee of Edney on yet another Ch. son.

Amos is at home with this owner at 847 Navesink River Road, Locust, N.J. 07760. Pedigree can be seen in Behind the New Champions.

Watch for his litter sister Camelot's Wilful Lil' Lady, now being shown.

hormonal medication might help - anything!! His answer was that he felt it impossible unless something like that was undertaken within 3 days following birth. Somehow to me this did not ring completely true. Any comments from anyone? Just curious.

Bottom line of the story is that these little angels are now 4 plus weeks old, doing beautifully, just beginning (finally) to eat from a dish, but battle is apparently won. Our little surrogate mother is still taking care of the little brats, loving them, warming them, snuggling them, NOT feeding them, teaching them the things mommies teach, guarding them, and constantly cleaning and licking little bottoms.

Guess I can't complain too much. While I am bone weary from feeding puppies so often, warming bottles, mixing food, etc. etc. etc. - at least, thanks to her, I DON'T HAVE TO SPEND SO MUCH TIME LICKING LITTLE PUPPIES' BOTTOMS!! YUK-----

ANOTHER HOME BRED CHAMPION

CH. DAWN'S HUGGY BEAR O' DARKNESS

Baltimore County K.C. - 4/22/79 - Judge, Iris Bueno

THANK YOU GLORIA SETMEYER

For the lovely win finishing her with 4 majors. Huggy Bear is the half-sister to our Ch. Flemington Jack's Little Pepi and the niece of our black bitch, Ch. The Pines Shadow of Darkness. Huggy is also the dam of Gloria's Cinder - The Pines Witches Lace who has done us proud with her Breed wins and also her younger sister The Pines Breeders Folly who has started her show career this spring.

Huggy's half-sister The Pines Waltzing Matilda owned by Maggie Worden took 2 majors and a breed win this past weekend at Wilmington and Penn Treaty and she's just 9 mos. old!

GETTING READY TO GO TO THE SHOWS

Well, the die is cast. You've mailed off your entry form and fee. Now you have 2½ to three weeks until the show or obedience trial. If you're a novice, perhaps you don't know how to get ready to go. Or maybe you've been showing for awhile but still manage to arrive at ringside, late and flustered. Perhaps the following hints will give you some ideas on making your own schedule, one that will get you there on time and help you enjoy the shows.

As soon as you've mailed entries:

Begin contacting friends to try to get up a "car pool." If several of you can travel together, you can save money on gas, tolls, and motel rooms. With the energy situation the way it is, car pooling (or motor home pooling) is a necessity for all of us.

Arrange for baby sitters for kids and dogs. Inform spouse of plans.

Check your wardrobe for appropriate clothes, shoes, foul weather gear.

Make motel reservations.

Plan route to take. Estimate times, distances, cost of gas and tolls. Remember you won't be able to do 55 MPH the whole way.

Get any maps you may need. A good travel atlas is essential to proper planning. The Rand McNally Travel Atlas has a map in the front which shows not only the distances between major cities, but approximate travel times. I've found these times both accurate and very helpful.

If the dog really needs a bath, I like to get the bath in 2 or 3 weeks before the show to allow time for the oil to build up again in the coat. However, there are some coats that seem to do better if bathed a day or two before. Experiment on this before you enter.

When the judging program arrives:

Now you can fill in the details on your schedule. First estimate your showing time. In conformation, AKC figures a pace of 25 dogs per hour. In obedience, the rate is 8 dogs/hour in Novice, 7 dogs/hr. in Open, and 6 dogs/hr. in Utility. However, I've found most obedience judges to be a little faster than this. Of course, absentees speed things up even more, and it is very hard to predict how many absentees there will be. In any case, it's better to be there too early than too late! If you arrive after your class is completed, you cannot be judged. Now count back from your showing time the amount of time you'll need to groom, in order to find the time you should arrive at the show grounds. I allow a minimum of one hour per dog. Add extra time if you're not familiar with the show site, if weather is likely to be bad, if it's a very large show where unloading facilities may be crowded. If you're showing only in obedience, you won't be doing as much grooming, but you will want to exercise your dog thoroughly, let him get used to the show sights and sounds, and locate your ring.

Now count back your estimated traveling time. Be sure to allow time for rest stops for any trip of 2 hours or more. Also it is a good idea to allow time for getting lost or for a flat tire. Knowing what time you must leave, you can decide whether to leave in the early morning or go the night before. If leaving in the a.m., I've found I must get up two hours before I'm due to leave. You're probably more efficient and can get ready faster. Experiment to see how long it takes you. My two hours include breakfast, packing cooler, getting dressed, and putting crates in car.

You now have a schedule which shows for each show date:

Time to get up, time to leave, time of arrival at show site, judging time, time to leave show and ETA at home. Notify babysitters and traveling companions of any change in plans based on this schedule.

Make lists of everything you'll need to take with you. Check to see that you have everything and that it is in good repair. The following list, for a trip of several days and showing in conformation, can be a starting point for making your own lists.

Schedule, maps, entrypasses and judging programs, moter reservations, CB, camera, a large flashlight, money--in addition to credit cards, you'll need cash for tolls, tips, catalogues, meals, and emergencies, crate for each dog, well labeled, X-pen, newspapers, grooming table, folding chair, tack bag or box, containing:

Leads and collars, scissors, thinning shears, brushes, comb, powder, spray bottles, cotton swabs, dry or waterless shampoo, tissues, wash rag, bait, diarrhea medicine, eye ointment, small first aid kit, antibiotic ointment, liquid acetominophen, water, dog food, dishes for food and water. Small plastic margarine cups are handy. Small bottle of sugar water in case of stress, lots of terry towels, suitcase--your clothes. One complete outfit for each show. Knit separates are practical. Low-heeled non-skid shoes. Try to figure the vagaries of the weather and be prepared. Make-up kit--includes cosmetics, soap, deodorant, toothbrush and paste, hairspray, brush and comb, electric curlers or curling iron, razor, shampoo, conditioner, aspirin, hay fever pills, sun tan lotion or sunscreen, nausea/diarrhea medicine, mirror, alarm clock, shower cap, cologne, hand lotion, bath powder. I keep mine packed all the time, with junior or sample sizes, ready to go. Thermos of coffee, cooler, containing ice, canned soft drinks, fruit, sandwiches, cheese or other sandwich fillings, candy bars, food box--I like to spend what little money I have on entry fees and grooming supplies. Food at dog shows is scandalously expensive unpalatable, and hard on the digestive system. Fast food restaurants are only slightly better. Hence, I carry my own food.

Loaf of bread, crackers, Breakfast Squares, Breakfast Bars, instant coffee, cup of soup, instant oatmeal, noodles prepackaged in foam cup, small electric coffee pot (for heating water), plastic spoons, forks, knife, can opener, styrofoam cups, cookies.

In the car, I keep a basket containing paper towels, spray cleaner, disinfectant spray, first aid kit, and moist towelettes, fire extinguisher, flares, blanket and pillow, foul weather gear--plastic jacket with hood, plastic trousers (these come packed together in a plastic envelope for about $3.00), boots, extra first aid kit.

Five or six days before show:

Trim toenails.

Trim ears and feet. This is best done when you're not nervous. You can touch the trimming up the night before the show and still avoid that raw, just done look.

Brush dog out thoroughly. Look for any skin lesions, any mats, any evidence of fleas. Treat these now. It is assumed that you have been training and conditioning your dog for months before you even considered entering him.

Four days before the show:

Clean teeth and ears.

Treat eyestain. This tip is from a vet via Morris Carson. Mix ¼ tsp. flour with ¼ tsp. of 3% hydrogen peroxide. Work into eyestain gently. Allow to dry. Brush out with a soft toothbrush.

Two days before show:

Write itinerary with as many addresses and phone numbers as possible, to leave with babysitter, dogsitter, or spouse. (Wouldn't it be nice if judging programs included a phone number for show sites to be used for emergencies?)

Begin packing.

Give dog a half bath. Bathe belly, penis, and skirts. Empty anal glands.

Andrews Pomeranians

CH. ANDREWS I'M JIMBO'S ME TOO

FINISHED WITH A FLAIR
BREEDER-OWNER HANDLED - WHIDBEY ISLAND KENNEL CLUB
JUDGE - ALFRED TREEN
BOB OVER TWO LOVELY CHAMPIONS AND ON TO A GROUP FOUR!!

Our little "Too Too" was a joy to show. She finished with either WB or RWB and only one third place in her rise to fame. She was BEST PUPPY at the COLUMBIA POMERANIAN CLUB SPECIALTY in 1977 under Judge Darrell Baker.

Thanks again go to EDNA GIRARDOT, for she shared two sons and a daughter (all champions) of that great CAVILIER with us. Cav is this little bitches' Great Grandfather three times and Great Grandfather once --- THANK YOU EDNA --- Line breeding IS THE WAY TO GO, WHEN YOU HAVE GOOD STOCK TO LINE BREED FROM. WE DID ---AND WE DO.

Nothing is as much fun as getting the Review and flipping the pages and seeing your ad and your picture and your pom in black and white for all the world to see and admire, unless it is going back through and reading about all your friends and what they have been doing. To see who has been winning and where. The new Review was a pleasure to me as the old one was. Even the fact that Mary Rosenbaum was given credit for The Northwest News and Views, and I was credited with the Puget Sound Pomeranian Club Report, did not diminish my admiration for the Northwest woody caption to the column.

To Sophie Mayes I say welcome as President. Thank you again for all the help you gave me while I learned to type and to put together a proper column for you to read. Sophie and the Review meant American Pomerian Club to me.

The Northwest has some bragging to do. Two lovely ladies completed the A. K. C. requirements for their championships recently. Bradley's Pandora Surprise, finished at the Intermountain Kennel Club Show, May, 20th 1979, in Salt Lake City Utah, under Judge Dorothy Carson. Pandy is a deep red true sable, with black tips on every hair, very sound moving. Bred by her owner, Shirley Bradley and shown by Shirley's Daughter Catherine Bradley. The Bradley's recently moved to a new larger home on a few acres in Puyallup. They formerly lived in Tacoma.

Andrews I'm Jimbos Me Too, also bred by owners Phyllis and Clyde Andrews finished at the Whidby Island Kennel Club Show, May 5, 1979, under Judge Alfred E. Treen. Judge Treen named Too Too his Best of Breed and she later placed Fourth in The Toy Group. Too Too is deep orange, self colored, sound and typy.

Both Pandy and Too Too are the results of years of planning and careful breeding. The owners concientiously picking just the lines to start with that came closest to the ideal pom as they saw it. Then as they progressed, going out to bring in new qualities or improve the existing ones. They chose different lines, but they had the same goals, to breed and show pomeranians that reflect the standard.

Some very sad news must also be reported. You all remember the Higbee bunch who have done so well in the obedience ring, and who also own and love Ch. Jambos Ringo Kid of Andrews. The bunch is smaller now. Robbie, aged sixteen was drowned in an accident in a lake near their home last Tuesday. Their loss is our loss. Robby is best remembered with his Vickie, cheerfully going through their paces, and for his cheerful acceptance of life. We will all miss him. To Nora and Ray, who opened their home to four foster children when their own family was grown, and to Bobby, Collette, and Lisa, Robby's brother and sisters, we offer our prayers and love.

The Columbia Pomeranian Club is planning a B match for July. Rita La Verne, well known to many older Pom Lovers, has agreed to judge. I hope we can go down for the match, even though I may not have anything to show. It is always a pleasure to see Rita and especially to see her back in the ring in any capacity. Her background in handling, grooming and breeding Poms qualifies her as a judge. Good luck to all exhibitors and spectators!

REBEL REPORT

SUE GODDARD
5044 Lee Hwy.
Bristol, VA 24201

I am writing this on my way back from a very warm weekend of shows, and am in favor of air conditioned buildings--the energy shortage or not! It is a lot to expect the coated breeds to show in temperatures of 85 degrees with 90% humidity.

Edna Girardot has been keeping the roads hot with her travels. She never fails to amaze me and I do have enormous respect for her. Edna hit Kansas like the tornadoes for which they are famous, finishing two more Champions in May shows. They are Scotia Fowy's Golden Nugget and Russel's Fox Flame Foxee. Just prior to that she had finished Scotia Lucky Nadine Returns, Edna tells an interesting story about this girl. She had sold her as a puppy and for some reason the lady who bought her found she could not keep her and offered her back to Edna. She said, "You may not want her, because a mutt bred her last season and she had seven puppies, so I guess she can never have purebred puppies."!! Edna is looking forward to breeding her.

Margaret McKee is justifiably proud of her two new Champions, Idlewyld Gemstone CD and Great Elms Idlewyld Jewel CD. They finished the same day and both have obedience degrees as well! An obedience trained Pom is a joy to show in conformation, responding to "heel" and "stay". I have a couple that I'd love to know those commands--however they would most likely be obedience school rejects. Margaret had two lovely girl type puppies with her this weekend sired by Julie Brumback's Ch. Star Vega. We will be seeing them in the ring in a couple of months.

Another recent champion is Miss Kitty, the darling little black female who was Winner's Bitch in our Feb. 1978 Specialty. Congratulations to owner-breeders, Bee Bassler, and Virginia Davis.

Last, but not least, we now have our first champion bitch with Wee Love Polly. Although we have bred a number of champion bitches, I have never finished or owned one myself, most being pointed, then bred and never returned for finishing points.

We rebels welcome former Yankees, Ken and Eleanor Miller to the south (Florida).

Word is they hope they never see snow again!! The Coys, who have been Florida residents several years now are building a home in the same area, so they will enjoy each others company. It is a beautiful area near Lakeland about 40 miles East of Tampa with most of the lots being over an acre (hard to find in Florida).

Jodi Hudspeth's Ch. Dazzle has added more BIS's to his record and now Randy Frech's Ch. Hot Shot has taken a BIS at Winston-Salem N. C.

We are hearing what seems to be an unusually large number of complaints regarding breeding and selling practices. Most of us realize that breeding Poms can never be a truly profitable venture and so it has been a hobby for most of us, into which we pour out far more than we recover, hopefully subsidizing our "habit" in some other way, grooming etc. to make ends meet. Let us hope that the drive to "make" money on Poms, doesn't cause us to lose sight of fair and honest practices. After all, we have only our good reputation on which to stand or fall.

Again, no one sends me "news", last time this happened I wrote about our cat...now the cat has three kittens. Unless you want to hear more about the kittens, SEND ME YOUR NEWS!!

HOW TO BREED FOR BLACK AND TAN

by MARGE GORMAN

There has been a great deal of interest in the black and tan color in the Pomeranian. Along with interest there has been misinformation about how to go about breeding for this distinctive pattern. While I do not consider myself an expert on the black and tan color, I can give you some basic information that I have obtained working on rare color breeding. Our first black and tan was a complete surprise; the second one was a mystery, and by the time the third one arrived, we had started to unravel the mystery of the black and tan gene. It has been our experience that black and tan is a recessive color gene. If a dog carries only one of these genes, he will be a color other than black and tan, but he can pass the gene on to some of his offspring...but not all of his offspring. In our case the gene was hidden for years until it came out was paired with another black and tan in close family breedings, father to daughter and half-brother to half-sister. When we found out which of the individuals carried the gene, then we could plan breedings to encourage it to show up again. What are the chances of black and tan showing up where neither of the parents are black and tan, but both carry the hidden recessive? A red-sable bitch who had previously produced black and tan was bred to her half brother who is black. They had four puppies, one clear red, two blacks and one black and tan. In this case the books were right. There was a 25% chance of black and tan showing up, and it did. With our small litters it may be necessary to try a breeding more than once to see if the black and tan gene is there. If one of the parents is black and tan and the other carries the hidden recessive, 50% of the litter should be black and tan. In a recent breeding of this combination, two out of five puppies were black and tan. If you breed two black and tan Poms together, the entire litter should be black and tan. If one of the parents is black and tan, no matter what the color of the puppy it will carry the black and tan gene as a hidden recessive and produce the color if bred correctly.

Rumors we have heard: Two sables will give you black and tan, if each one carries the hidden recessive, but not all sables produce the color. It is all in the genes.

Black and tans are all the same shade. The black and tans may vary in intensity and depth of color just as two black dogs in the ring may not be exactly the same shade of black. We have seen the tan points on black and tan vary from pale gold to rust.

There is no secret in colorbreeding. It is time consuming but can be a rewarding challenge. Good Luck!

We have had some large entries in Poms here in the ring and have had some good wins towards championships on several. On February 10, 1979 at Longview-Kelson Best of Breed, Winner's Bitch was Que Sera of Golden Glow owned by Erin Hundley and Winner's Dog was Bradley's Tomanoll's Tiny Teddy Bear owned by Shirley Bradley. On February 24 & 25 at the Seattle Kennel Club Best of Breed was Ch. Skylark's Cinnamon Banner owned by Florence Ryals, Best of Winners and Winner's Dog was Tomanoll's Tiny Teddy Bear owned by the Bradleys (this also finished Bear's Championship) Best of Opposite Sex to Ch. Bi-Mar's Happy Hooker of JJ owned by Mary Rosenbaum and Winner's Bitch to Bradley's Pandora Surprise owned by Shirley Bradley. March 10, 1979 at Chintimini Kennel Club the winners were Best of Breed to Harbin's Indestructable Jimmy owned by Irene Harbin, Winner's Dog to Que Sera Spirit of LaRita owned by Hundley and LaVern and Winner's Bitch to Andrews I'm Jimbo Me Too owned by Clyde & Phillis Andrews. On March 11, 1979 at the Willamette Valley Kennel Club the winners were Best of Breed to Harbin's Indestructable Timmy owned by the Harbins and Best of Winners, Winner's Bitch and Best of Opposite Sex to Andrews I'm Jimbo's Me Too owned by the Andrews. March 25, 1979 Peninsula Dog Fanciers found Best of Breed being awarded to Ch. Ronaldo of Point Loma owned by Dr. Chas. Wilson. Winner's Dog and Best of Winners to Golden Glow Peter Pan owned by Elva McGilbry and Winner's Bitch and Best of Opposite Sex to Harbin's Golden Glow Sally owned by Irene Harbin. Second in group to Ch. Ronaldo of Point Loma.

On May 4, 1979 at the Puget Sound Pom Club's Sanction Match I had the pleasure of judging this match and picking the two dogs that would go up for points at Whidbey and Olympia in the next two days. I awarded Best of Breed, Best Puppy and Best Bitch to Andrews Lass by Laddie owned by the Niehouses and Best Male and Best of Opposite Sex to Que Sera Spirit of LaRita owned by the Hundleys. On May 5, 1979 Best of Breed, Best of Winners along with a group 4th plus finishing her championship went to Andrew's I'm Jimbo's Me Too owned by Clyde and Phillis Andrews. Best of Opposite Sex to Ch. Harbin's Indestructable Jim owned by the Harbins and Winner's Dog to Que Sera Spirit of LaRita owned by Hundley and LaVerne. May 6 winners were Best of Breed to Ch. Harbin's Indestructable Jim, Winner's Dog to Varney's Cavalier Top Choice owned by Pat Heath and Winner's Bitch, Best of Winners and Best of Opposite Sex to Andrews Lass by Laddie owned by Virginia and Bernard Niehouse.

So that gives us two new champions for our area and I want to say congratulations to Cathy and Shirley Bradley on Ch. Tomanoll's Tiny Teddy Bear and to Clyde and Phillis Andrews on Ch. Andrews I'm Jimbo's Me Too.

Towel dry and brush out whole dog.

Have car serviced. Check oil, batteries, tires, transmission fluid, air conditioner. Fill gas tank.

Day before show:

Finish packing.

Load as much as possible into car.

Groom dog completely.

You don't want to feed dog immediately before leaving, to avoid car-sickness. Plan his meals accordingly.

If you plan carefully, and do as much as possible ahead of time, you should have a comfortable and enjoyable trip.

Our Spring Specialty of March 23, 1979 was another most enjoyable experience. We had an entry of 44 with 16 entries in the Puppy Sweepstakes. Our judges, Mr. Charles J. Smith who judged the Sweepstakes and Mr. Darrell W. Baker who judged the Regular Classes did an excellent job and both made a very good impression on everyone.

Our Show Chariman, Douglas Baynham, who can always be depended on to get the job done did just that. He handled every detail to perfection.

The trophy table was spectacular. The trophies were perfectly beautiful with each one having a perfect Pomeranian figureine on the top. Our trophy committee which included Gertrude Howell, Carla Prewitt and Rene Lunday really outdid themselves in selecting the trophies.

Our advertising committee which included Bill Kennedy, Chance West and Mike Austin did a great job in obtaining advertising for the catalog.

Our ring stewards, Rosemary Wise and Susan Ferguson, who can always be relied upon performed their duties expertly and efficiently.

We were pleased and honored to have the privilege of meeting and visiting with some of the members of the American Pomeranian Club, namely, Pat Lewis, Anthony (Skip) Piazza and Jacquelyn W. Klein, as well as others from other states and of course from all over Texas.

Puppy Sweepstakes Winners were:

Best in Puppy Sweepstakes: Silver Meadows Star Mistee, owned by Jacquelyn W. Klein.

Best of Opposite Sex in Puppy Sweepstakes: Shadow's Rhythm Maker, owned by Peggy J. Bush.

Class Winners were:

WD: Wee Peppi Corkie of Pom Haven, owned by Darlene Hartstack.

RWD: Tomanoll's I Got Leggs, owned by Opal Mosher.

WB: Aristocrat Satin Doll, owned by Bill Kennedy.

RWB: Chloe's April Doll, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Williamson.

BB: Ch. Mac's Mister Beaux Jangles, owned by Mrs. B.G. McDonald.

Best in Puppy Classes: Tomanoll's I Got Leggs, owned by Opal Mosher.

Judge Darrell W. Baker awards Best of Breed to Ch. Mac's Mister Beaux Jangles, handled by owner Mrs. B.G. McDonald.

The show ran very smoothly and everyone was so friendly and congenial. We shall be looking forward to seeing everyone again next year and hope to make it pleasant and enjoyable for all.

The club dinner which followed was the climax to a "fun evening". Several of our members were very late in arriving at the dinner as they got lost but finally made it. After everyone was introduced, our President, Mildred Patrick, called on each judge to make any comments they wished to make. Mr. Charles J. Smith, the Sweepstakes judge, expressed his pleasure at seeing so many good puppies and complimented the club on the show catalog which he thought was well put together and said that whoever was responsible did a great job. Then our judge, Mr. Darrell W. Baker, complimented the club on its well organized and well conducted show, and stated that he was very impressed with the overall quality and complimented everyone. He also complimented the club on the beautiful array of trophies.

by
GLORIA CARLIN
 Publicity Chairman

Our President then presented Mrs. B.G. McDonald with a beautiful plaque honoring her Best in Show Win with her 'Mac's Mister Beaux Jangles' which was donated by a friend in the name of the club. Needless to say Mrs. McDonald was pleasantly surprised and proud of this honor.

Then much to my surprise and disbelief Mildred Patrick had everyone to stand and give me a standing ovation. She then had everyone to open a scroll which was placed by each service which turned out to be a tribute to me, Jewel Ellis, with a picture of me and one of my champions along with a write-up of my association with the club in serving as Secretary for 21 years and a short history of my kennel. This was an honor which I shall never forget. Some club members went in together and presented me with a gift in appreciation of my services rendered. I appreciated very much their thoughtfulness and generosity as well as their confidence in me.

It was very relaxing for everyone to sit down and enjoy a good dinner, which we look forward to every year.

New officers and board members elected at our April meeting were as follows: President, Mr. B. G. McDonald; Vice-President, Douglas Baynham; Treasurer, Carol Sherry; Recording Secretary, Rene Lunday; Corresponding Secretary, Jewel Ellis. Board Member, Gertrude A. Howell and automatically included was our past president Mildred Patrick.

The following Pomeranians have recently finished their championship:

Ch. Mac's Mister Beaux Jangles, owned by Mrs. B. G. McDonald.

Ch. Gold Gems High Interest, owned by Bures P. White.

Ch. Patrick's Miss Dina Mite, owned by Mildred G. Patrick.

We are looking forward to another successful year in exhibiting and breeding for better Poms, and hope for the same for other breeders everywhere as well.

Greetings from the San Diego Pomeranian Club! We recently held our first FUN MATCH this year on Sunday, April 22, at Holiday Park in Carlsbad. Our judge was Jackie Grundman, a woman from the Los Angeles area. We had an excellent entry of over 30 Poms - of all sizes and colors.

We began the afternoon with a potluck with our judge being the honored guest. Following lunch, the judging began. There were many gorgeous puppies - I know it was not an easy job choosing the winners. Jackie went over each dog thoroughly before making her decisions. I will share with you a list of the big winners. We divided the entries into two classes - junior and senior, in all fairness to the puppies. Our BOB Jr. Dog was Fresco of Pt. Loma, owned by Pauline Hughes. BOS Jr. Bitch was awarded to Sunray's High Society owned by Gloria Carlin. In the senior division, Roy a Muffin captured the BOB honors. He is a black and tan owned by Elaine Jackson. BOS went to sweet little Goldsun Delight O Beaver, owned by Dan and Margaret Ontiveros. Our winning brace was Carmel Puff and Misty owned by Karen Cartey and Louie Rensberger. The high scoring obedience Pom of the day was talented little Memish owned by Marilyn Hawley. The day ended with a 'fun class' with categories such as: least coat, most coat, biggest and smallest ears, shortest and longest tail, best head, legs and longest and shortest body. Everyone had a chance to win in this class - no matter what our Poms looked like! We enjoyed ourselves so much that we're already planning another match for the autumn season of this year.

Our new club officers for 1979 are Adrian Alford, president; Pauline Hughes, vice president; Marianne Alford, secretary; Gloria Carlin, treasurer and publicity; Marilyn Hawley, trophy chairman. Our club has grown in membership this year. It's exciting to have new people come to our meetings - some are professional and some are amateurs. The overall quality of Poms here in San Diego is getting better every year. I have a feeling that you will be hearing more about our Poms in the near future!

HE IS BRED TO WIN...AND HE IS!!!

Medallion is a multiple BIS, was Top Pom in Canada for 1978 and this year he continues to win. He is currently one of the top Toys in the country, with 40 Group Firsts and 6 BIS. Medallion's pedigree can be found in the Stud Register.

HE IS BRED TO PRODUCE...AND HE IS!!!

From his first two litters, Medallion has a daughter, Ch. Chriscendo Coy Coquette (Amanda) who did so well as a puppy, and is now doing some very nice Group winning for us, Amanda is also pointed in the U.S., going BOB from the classes. Her younger brother, Chriscendo Causin A Commotion (Andy) has already won a Group from the Jr. Puppy classes and is within a few points of his title. We also wish his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baxstrome, the very Best of Luck with him, and we are sure you'll hear lots more from this one.

I wrote this column several months ago and then set it aside. Due to my strong feelings on the subject, I cannot remain objective; however, as I thought of the impact of the problem on the breed, I decided to give you my opinions as food for thought.

A heinous activity is not criminal unless there is a law against it. Unfortunately, many acts against dogs fall into this category. There seems to presently be a rash of breeding bitches who are themselves still babies. No bitch is ready for motherhood under one year of age. Many are not ready until later. Aside from being flagrantly cruel, breeding babies is an unsound breeding practice. A bitch who is herself still a puppy needs the body building nutrients for herself. Her body and the growing fetuses must fight each other for needed food. Even if extra nutrients are added to her food there is a maximum that her bloodstream can carry. It may not be enough. All of the involved bodies may be permanently deficient in various areas which may not be quickly recognized or may be attributed to other problems. There is also a psychological factor. The bitch is still a puppy. She has a right to be a baby, even if she tries to care for the puppies, she is not as stable as she will be at maturity. I have seen mature bitches do amazing things with puppies. Some will hold a weak puppy with their paws as it nurses. I even saw one knowledgeable bitch pick up a puppy and shake it to clear its breathing, put it down, listen, and repeat the shake. The breathing cleared, and she cuddled it in to nurse. I could hardly believe what I had seen, but it had happened. No such judgment can come from a baby. Assuming that somehow both the puppy bitch and her puppies survive with little noticeable damage, is all well? I think not; the bitch has been robbed of her puppyhood, and this can never be returned to her. The time in which she should be adjusting to people, dogs, and the world around her and finding her place, is gone. Of course this robbery is not a crime--there is no law against it.

Who does this thing and why? I have asked many questions recently and have spent several nights trying to think of what we can do. There seem to be three types of breeders who breed puppy bitches. One group breeds any bitch in season. These people do not care what they do to either the breed or the unfortunate individuals in the breed or the unfortunate individuals within their grasp. They care only for the money that the puppies may bring. These babies are sold as soon as they can be; often they are poorly weaned and no shot protection. As much as I hate to admit it there is little that we can do with these breeders except educate the public to evaluate what they buy. This means we may have to spend hours with pet buyers when we do not have a pet for sale, but we can help the buyer find a healthy baby. The second and third groups are the ones to whom we should turn our attention. I am amazed at how many new breeders do not know that breeding a puppy is a poor practice. Usually these people love their Pom and do not want to be unfair to her. The stud owner should help them to understand and encourage them to spend the intervening months learning the breed. There is much to learn. I hope no stud owner is so eager for a stud fee that he will willingly damage another's bitch to gain it. Of course the stud owner should be interested in the puppies that his stud produces. If he is, he will talk with the bitch's owners and together they can plan for the best of the future litter. It is at this time that the bitch's age, breeding record, and quality of production (if any) can be discussed. These people, if given proper guidance, can become valuable breeders; their desires are

Congratulations to Jan Biroth of Clarksville, TN, and her J-MAC'S SMOKEY THE BANDIT, who is now an American and Canadian C.D. What a thrill it is when your very first Pom does something great for you like getting a C.D.! (In two countries, yet!) Jan writes: "Bandit is my first Pom, and oh, how he has changed our lives. I had never trained or shown a dog before him. I hadn't even gone to a match or a dog show. Training Bandit was so much fun as he learned so very fast. He would do anything to please me. We started obedience classes in February 1978 and in September went to Canada for his title. He did really well: 197½, 194½ and 186. We then made a trip to Indiana for two legs with scores of 189 and 187. Before we could go for our third leg Bandit had an accident and had to have leg surgery, but after months of no work at all I decided to try again. I was amazed at how he remembered and in March we went to Nashville where he got his last leg with a score of 194, which also won him high scoring Toy."

The good news from Claudia Frank of Wisconsin Rapids, WI is that her "Viva" (SILVAKRESS VIVA, T.D.) made her very proud at Hiawatha Valley Kennel Club Match in Tomac, Wisc. in March. "Viva" scored 199 for a High in Match from the Novice Class. She says, "It was one of those days that everything felt right, and I was just so happy with her prancing performance." Claudia, as we all know, is an excellent trainer, and she was kind enough to pass on a few tips that have worked for her in training her Poms. She writes: "My Poms and I (especially 4½ lb. Viva) make a rather strange picture, I am sure, as I'm nearly six feet tall. The drawback with the height only seems to come when the dog sits after the recall. If they look at me they tend to sit a little far as they are looking up at a very steep angle. From several clinics, books and just fooling around I use several ways to get them closer.

Offer a treat on recall by bringing the arm around your leg so the treat comes between your ankles.

Practicing fronts with the lead going between your legs to your hand held in back of you.

Placing a stick, lead or line on the ground so the dog will have to walk across it and then sit.

Placing a treat on the ground between your feet.

Having someone else manipulate a long lead coming between your feet.

The first two worked well for both my dogs and the others worked well for one but not for the other. I'd like to hear what innovations other exhibitors have come up with. I use treats a lot as they really want to learn the game then - also use toys so they really enjoy training sessions."

Thank you, Claudia, and again congratulations.

good. They just have not been given the help that all beginners need. The third group is more difficult to help, but not hopeless. Some people seem to want to do everything yesterday. They expect instant success--well, after all, they have instant rice! These people breed a puppy bitch because they "cannot wait". I have yet to meet one who planned to die within the next six months. I wonder why they cannot spend a few months studying lines, care, conditioning, etc. These people must win, I suppose, to support their egos. Nothing is as important as winning. I have found that it does little good to talk to them about the bitch's welfare, but discussions, of planning and study and research as to when a bitch produces best, do move them.

There is definitely a population explosion in purebred dogs as well as mongrels. There is no room in the world for just some more registered puppies. Each must have a purpose if he is to be valued. Each of us must do our part to help the breed that we profess to care about. There is lit-

As I signed off last time, I was talking about the February Calgary shows, and I have to report now that the entry was not very special, and nothing exciting happened, unless the fact that my boy could, and did make the noises I expected him to, and although I expected them, I still wasn't ready to shush him up. No one scolded me about it, but the folk in the bleachers sure all looked our way.

Since then I have only attended shows on two weekends, one three day weekend in Winnipeg, where Millamor's Rock Medallion took breed every show, and one in the United States at Spokane, then Lewiston. Wish I could announce that I came home with the wins, but I had a great time anyway.

I do have a few bits of show news from various parts of Canada this time. Two new champions, one bred and owned by Shirley Charrette of Edmonton, Alberta, Charrette's Luckyfox Hope, (female) and the second one bred and owned by Nancy McPhee of St. Thomas, Ontario, Darcy's Wee Coquette (female). A puppy of Matt Heindl of Sudbury, Ontario, has come home with back to back 'Best Puppy in Show' awards, and a group second. (Matt's first show dog, and a homebred one at that.) As the dam of this puppy is one of my breeding I am hoping that maybe I did something right when I produced her. And a new-comer to Poms and shows has the award for Best in Match at a sanction match with her male bred by Joan Zavaglia of Vernon, B.C. This proud owner is Darlene Dale of Williams Lake, B.C.

Now - Special Greetings to everyone from 'Peacock' - mascot of the newly reformed Pomeranian Club of Canada, and assistant editor of the newsletter of the club, 'Peacock Sez'. Peacock has been caught in various poses by our club artist, Michelle McDonald, none of them too risqué, but who knows what the future poses will be who knows what the future poses will be? Membership of the club is not great yet, but all are enthusiastic and active, so we have great hopes of it being successful. The constitution has been revised, and the club will try to operate as a really allacross Canada club. Our executive is a good start with the President, Frankie McDonald, living at 14 Palisade Place, Halifax, Nova Scotia, the vice-president; Ann Fulton, living in Guy, Alberta, (Box 226), the secretary/treasurer, Joan Grant, living in Golden, B.C. (Box 1423), one director, Jessie Carr, in Troy, Ontario, (R.R. 1), and the second one, Marilyn Harder, living at 8603 North Kelly Road, Prince George, B.C. If you want any more information, contact any of the board members.

The mail arrived as I sit typing with more news of Poms holding their own in the Canadian show rings. In the Maritimes, four Poms have the distinction of winning the group lately: Ch. Dusomes Flashback, owned by Mrs. Betty O'Neil, Ch. Millamors Rock Medallion, owned by Chris Heartz, Ch. Chiscendo Coy Coquette, also owned by Chris, and Chiscendo Causin a Commotion, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boxstrom. Too, the puppy of Matt Heindl's that I mentioned earlier is a champion, Too, after only four shows, with a group first and a group third and a total of 8 best of breeds, as well as the other awards. He sent a photo and I am impressed by this youngster, as well as by his record. The puppy's name is Ch. Bavenew Nakoa-Koa.

Til next time I will keep busy with my litters of Finnish Spitz puppies as well as a trio of females in the Pom nest. It sounds as if it should be a fun summer. Drop in!

I wanted to tell you how much I like the new format and paper for the May '79 "Pomeranian Review." It looks beautiful, and is so much easier to read!

ETHEL RICHARDSON
Kennesaw, Georgia

It is so nice to be back in Georgia and to renew old friendships. We miss all the wonderful friends we left in California, especially the Pom fanciers. People like Dorothy Tinkler, Pauline Hughes, Beverly Griffin, Bob Clegg and the Helwigs will always be remembered, as will their beautiful Poms. Also, we'll never forget our wonderful Vet. J. J. Sloan. Nor will we ever forget an especially wonderful Aileen Martellos, hubby and their welcoming committee of petite Sturkean Yorkies.

We have had no time to relax and reminisce. Living in a new home with no furniture. Moving across country and traveling with a Dobie, Yorkie, and more than 20 Poms is a memorable experience, especially for a lady driving by herself. The rewards were great, though. We arrived in time to share the wonderful experience of Randy French's hospitality for the Pom specialty. The specialty was the nicest bunch of Poms and friendliest people to be found anywhere. Southern hospitality just can't be beat.

Our present pleasure is presenting Ace Hi's Peaches N Cream. Peaches shares accommodations with our son and family in Lancaster, California. Curtis and Lenora were reluctant to let Peaches visit so far from home. Peaches is enjoying a fine visit and doesn't have time to be lonely.

We plan to be ringside often in the future, so tap us on the shoulder and be our friend also.

GEORGINA LANE
Lake Park, Florida

I am not sure if we have met or not, but I do know officers and Board of Directors in the Pom Club.

I have noticed no notice in magazine of an old timer, Violet Munz, Kavilla Kennels, Sacramento's death in January of this year. She lost touch with many old friends as she lived her last six years without sight.

She bred many B. I. S. Poms and for many she interbred with my dogs - one dog I owned from her stock also took B. I. S. I do not believe she left any family but a kind friend answered my letters to her. I value an oil she painted for me as a gift, and like others, I will miss her.

I no longer due to judging own a Pom, but my lovely Minado's lively face hangs on wall before me. I enjoyed the Poms at Crufts this year.

I generally think the Review is better. Pictures are sharper, etc. Print clearer. However, I do not like the outlines pic of the dogs. I would prefer them in a small circle rather than outlines or square or rectangle. Confusing you, I prefer them in square or rectangle or small circle without pic being taken back to the coat, etc., outline on the dog. Just my opinion however.

You are doing good work. Hope the load doesn't get you down.

RANDY FRECH
Kennesaw, GA

This is my first letter to Yips and Yaps to express some of my views on our breed.

In Darrell Baker's last column of the Review, he mentioned letters he had received about Judges putting down poms because of too much coat. I hope all the breeders will write either to this column or to our club President expressing their ideas on this subject.

I have been breeding Poms since 1961, and I have yet to see a pom with too much coat. What can be more beautiful to a breeder's eye than a typy Pom with a tremendous standoff coat.

I don't mean that type or soundness is not to be considered first. I mean that a Pom that has soundness and a gorgeous coat should not be penalized because of his coat.

Also, we have heard all about overtrimming. The judges have all had directives sent to them about this. But it still goes on. I for one don't care how anyone trims his or her dog. I feel that is everyone's own choice. But when a judge tells a person in the show ring that her dog should be scissored, that the dog has too much coat, I think it is time the breeders should speak out.

Let's hear from the breeders of years standing, from the newcomers, from breeder/judges on what they all want to see in the show dog.

For myself, I just want to breed for quality Pomeranians. I want Type, Soundness, Coat - all the coat I can possibly get. And I hope when I go in the ring the judge won't put me down because I'm fortunate enough to have a really good Pom with a beautiful coat.

I want to bring up another subject that I think we all can agree on. "The Anniversary Issue." What a beautiful job Sophie and her staff did. I will enjoy this book for years to come. Thank you, Sophie, for a tremendous job well done.

I also want to thank all the wonderful Pom people who came to Georgia last fall for the fall Specialty. I really enjoyed co-hosting this affair with Sue Goddard; what a great gal to work with! and Pat Brooks who after all our efforts just couldn't get here. We'll send a car after you next time, Pat.

After putting this Special together and hoping, and maybe saying a little prayer for a good entry, I made a pledge to myself. That in the future, no matter where the Pomeranian Specialty was being held or who was judging, I would give it all the support I possibly could. Not only because of all the efforts people go to, to make a successful Specialty Show, but because it is truly a breeders showcase, where one can view all the good poms from all parts of the country. Where we can meet wonderful people that we have read about, or met on the telephone. So here's hoping to see all of you in Wisconsin in August. Let's support Sallie Baughnut and her club and make it the best Summer Specialty ever.

Congratulations, Pat, on your first issue of the Pom Review. I was really pleased with the way you handled my ad. Have heard lots of nice comments from others, too. So take pride in a job well done and keep up the good work.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

It is our firm belief that EVERY READER has a right to his or her views in the Yips 'n Yaps column, with the following exceptions...unsigned letters, malicious or nonsensical letters will NOT be considered. As space permits, we will print letters of complaint as well as letters of praise and more positive subject matter. We do, however, reserve the right to edit, not changing the meaning of, but shortening the length if necessary to fit our space requirements. The Parent Club and its publication, The Review, have a duty to protect our breed as well as work for improvement, and to uphold the Code of Ethics which all members have signed. By the same token, we will be happy to print any replies to letters, as we realize there are two sides to every issue.

Therefore, the following letters are printed, in their entirety, in answer to a complaint printed in the May Review.

NAME NOT WITHHELD

LENNIS RAINES
Norristown, Tennessee

I have never felt it necessary to write a letter to Yips and Yaps until now. As a matter of fact, I have always felt that most of the articles were the type that never should have been printed. I was under the impression that the Review and the APC were for the betterment of the Breed, and not for crude, tasteless, one-sided gossip. I am specifically referring to the Yips and Yaps article in the April Review.

I am, as most of you know, the breeder of the litter of seven. Several months ago, a former acquaintance approached me and came to my home and asked if he could trade a female for a male puppy since he needed a male for breeding and had no money. The bitch he wanted to trade had lost 90 percent of her teeth at six years of age. Since he needed a male and had no money, I agreed to help. I had several three month old males. He made his choice, and we made the swap including papers. At no time was Name Withheld under the impression that his puppy was from the litter of seven. The litter of seven was eight months of age when he chose his puppy and he knew it. When he mailed the litter registration to AKC, they returned it saying that there had been a mistake in the number of males in the litter and to contact me as the breeder for correction. When it was mailed to me, I, in turn, mailed to AKC an explanation and my check for correction, I never heard from AKC or Name Withheld for many weeks. So, naturally, I thought everything had been corrected. In the meantime, Name Withheld moved three times, once out of state. At least ten weeks later, I received two letters ten days apart from AKC. The first one stated that the litter number and the records had been corrected. The latter one stated just the opposite --saying the correction had not been made and the litter number was completely different. AKC had assigned two different litter numbers for the same litter. This mistake probably was made since three different people from AKC were handling the correspondence. Knowing this, I then wrote a letter to AKC explaining the long-time problem. I stated that there were two litter numbers assigned to the same litter. I sent copies of the two letters from AKC and a copy of my check for correction. It has been over six weeks and since I haven't heard from AKC or Name Withheld, I once again assume that the correction has been made.

Name Withheld has voiced disapproval only in Yips and Yaps with the development of the puppy. If he is a breeder, he knows that no one can foretell how a three month old puppy will mature. He had several males to choose from and he made his OWN choice. It seems to me that he expected to get in Best in Show male at three months of age for a six year old bitch with no teeth and this is the root of his whole gripe. I bred his two bitches to my Champion and have never received any kind of payment. But I felt that this was a matter between us and not the kind of information for Yips and Yaps.

As a member of APC, I feel very strongly that this situation is a prime example of vicious, untrue, one-sided gossip which should never have been printed. I feel the APC should stick to the business at hand - the betterment of the Breed. To have to waste my time to write an answer to a situation that is no one's business is uncalled for. I will wait and see if my letter in its entirety is printed and steps are taken to stop this sort of thing.

RUTH BEAM
Pineville, N.C.

I certainly don't intend to get involved in disputes between breeders and their customers, but in the case of the letter to "Yips and Yaps" in the May Review on page 66 on the lower half of the page signed, "Name Withheld", I consider this letter unfair and in very poor taste.

In my opinion, a letter of this type should not be printed in the Review as only one side is presented. In this case, it is very unfair to the one who has been so well identified by mentioning "a litter of 7 puppies", especially when, it is my understanding, this person did not even get a puppy from this litter but must have felt sure the breeder would be identified by mentioning this particular litter.

A half truth can be vicious as it can convey a completely different meaning to the truth.

I have found, over the years, that some customers are very unreasonable in their expectations and demands (I could give many examples but it would take pages) which is one of the reasons I will not ship nor will I sell a gorgeous young pup as definite show type. Life is too short to go through the hassles that may come up by guaranteeing puppies to please or they may be returned.

Right now, I too, am having a problem trying to get a litter registration from AKC. My cancelled check (with the litter number printed on it) is dated Oct. 7, 1978. I wrote to AKC in January about it and haven't heard a word from them. I have written again and sent a copy of the check. I have also had other problems with them that was not my fault, but some customers just won't believe that AKC could be at fault.

I would think letters of this type should be written to the APC officers and board, names called and letters signed and only then should letters from both parties be published in "Yips and Yaps" (if at all). I dare say, letters of this type would disappear from the Review if the writer could not hide behind "Name Withheld".

NEW PUBLICATION DATES

No - your May issue of the Pomeranian Review was not a month late. According to action taken by the board at the February meeting in New York, our publication dates have all been moved forward one month. New dates are as follows:

Copy Deadline	Publication Date
December 15	February 1
March 15	May 1
June 15	August 1
September 15	November 1

We, your Review staff, hope that this does not inconvenience anyone and will work out to better advantage for us all. In my work, December is my heaviest month and this will work out much better for me. If you have a special event and want to get your copy in — let us know, we will allot a page and make arrangements to expect your report. But, REMEMBER, once you make a special commitment, hold to the deadline date! Otherwise, you can throw the entire publication late — and this is something we wish to avoid at all costs.

In regard to the other letter from "Name Withheld", I too, am very much against overtrimming (and I don't mind anyone knowing it). The sad part in over-trimming, is the fact that some judges want over-trimming. They either don't read the standard or they disregard it.

PENRU KENNELS

PROUDLY PRESENTS

CH. PENRU'S CALDOAK CHANSONNETTE

Wendy is shown going Best of Breed over specials under Judge Marianne Grybinski. She finished with 3 majors at under 13 months of age.

She is sired by Ch. Funfair's Pinto-O-Joe Dandy and is out of Caldoah Penny Wise.

A special Thank You to her breeder Pauline A. Caldwell and to Joy S. Brewster who handled her to some of her wins.
